

Sponsorship Opportunities Available to Reach HIV/AIDS and Other Infectious Disease Researchers!

The California National Primate Research Center will host the 40th Annual Symposium on Nonhuman Primate Models for AIDS. This in-person event will take place October 10 -13, 2023, at the University of California Davis Activities and Recreation Center in Davis, California.

The Annual Symposium on Nonhuman Primate Models for AIDS is the premier scientific forum for the exchange of information, including new research findings and scientific perspectives, among HIV/AIDS and other infectious disease investigators whose research includes studies in nonhuman primates (NHPs). This meeting is the only one of its kind in the world. With 38 million people currently estimated to be living with HIV worldwide, it is imperative to develop better treatments and interventions to prevent and/or cure HIV infection. The symposium also includes presentations on other infectious diseases, and updates on latest technologies/-omics with broader applications on nonhuman primate models.

Who You Can Reach by Sponsoring this Meeting

The Symposium is open to all individuals interested in NHP models of AIDS and other infectious diseases. The conference attracts scientists from around the world, including early-stage investigators, established faculty, veterinarians, veterinary technicians, postdoctoral fellows and graduate students. We anticipate as many as 250 people will attend the meeting.
